Dear Monsieur Wartelle

It was extremely kind of you to take the trouble to write to me about Alisia and the claim of CHAUX-DES-CROTENAY to be the site of the famous engagement.

(Alisia.) I do not know the book to which you are referring, but I will make sure that I obtain it. Your comments were extremely interesting to me. I visited Mont Auxois some years ago with a copy of Cesar's Gallic Wars in my hand and I must confess I did not find that the two fitted very well though I was prepared to accept the general opinion of my French colleagues. I will now try to take the opportunity to re-think the situation inspired by your letter.

Thank you again for your kindness and interest

Yours sincerely
B.W. Cunliffe
